DETAILED ACTION

Terminal Disclaimer

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on September 27, 2004 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application, which would extend beyond the expiration date of U.S. Patent Application 09/238,007, which is now U.S. Patent 6,809,649 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 28-30 and 34-36 are allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 31 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakajou et al. (US Pat. 5,783,998).

In reference to claims 31, 32, Nakajou discloses a) the claimed current source providing a current value, which is met by charge current flowing along the path of the processor 11A from the load/charger 11 (electronic device) (col. 5, lines 58-67), b) the claimed processor configured to calculate a resistance in the battery responsive to the current value and a voltage drop value at an input to the electronic device, which is met by processor 11A determining if a certain level of voltage is applied to the gate of FET3, then the ON resistance becomes small, and the voltage drop at the source and the drain is small (col. 5, lines 58-67), and c) the claimed circuitry for enabling communication of data between the processor and the battery, which is met by data supplied through the data terminal DATAB, CPU 1 (col. 4, lines 36-52).

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Davetta W. Goins whose telephone number is 571-272-2957. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Fri with every other Fri. off.
